About Me

I am a recent graduate from the University of Colorado Boulder. I have been in school for Graphic Design related work since 2014 and I have been doing freelance work since 2018. I am proficient in the Adobe Creative Suite which I have been working in since 2014 and I carry the applications on my Mac. Project management, organization, and communication are all part of my skill sets as well as a creative vision. My goal for short term is to join a company team as a graphic designer or digital artist and progress even further in my skill sets than where I am today. I want to help make a difference with design by exceeding expectations in a companies' branding and marketing department.
